

ORTHO NOTE

Orthopaedic National Online Training and Education

We are pleased to announce that the Orthopaedics, (and trauma), National Online Training and Education programme, ORTHO NOTE, is now available online.

This innovative, new resource, funded by HEE, is free to join and use, and is open to all higher surgical level doctors in the UK preparing for the FRCS (T&O), including NTNs, SAS, specialists and locally employed doctors.

The online hub will host live webinars twice per month, mapped to the curriculum and covering the whole curriculum over a three year period. These webinars can be viewed live, on catch up or later as part of final revision for the exam.

The site also hosts other interactive content for the exam including useful information, resources and links. As a new initiative we aim to build these resources over time to become the site for trainees preparing for the FRCS (T&O).

Please register for the hub by scanning the QR code below to link to the registration form to fill out.

N.B. The registration process will not be instant and your login details will be sent to you once you are fully registered.
